Profile

My name is Jayden Mobley, At the moment, I'm a freelance script developer apart of the FiveM (GTA 5 Multiplayer Mod) modding community, this has entailed me to learn many skills mainly the ability to understand and write code in languages including: Lua, CSS, HTML, JS, SQL and JS frameworks such as React, Svelte, Vue and Bootstrap. Learning all of this stuff outside of education has helped me understand quicker when it comes to my game's development course at college, because I've learnt most of the beginner and novice programming practices outside of college. With learning all of these programming languages, I've managed to run my freelancing business for the last 2 years and along this 2-year period I've managed to make lots of connections within this community where I've managed to make a name for myself within the FiveM developing community.

Employment History

FiveM Mod Creation, Self Employed

DECEMBER 2022 — PRESENT

I'm a freelance script developer apart of the FiveM (GTA 5 Multiplayer Mod) modding community. What this job entails is that people will approach me asking me to create their servers and or create scripts for them to use on their servers.

Education
